

Orange Chilli

Once upon a time there was a hidden waterfall deep in the woods. It flowed down the steep rocks spilling sparkling water into a crystal-clear pool. The sound of the rushing water was calming like a gentle song. One sunny day a young boy named tom discovered the waterfall He skidded to a stop and shouted to his friend “look” As sunlight hit the water it created beautiful rainbows in the mist. tom felt excited and knew, Isn't this a special place He promised to return and always respect the magic of nature
