Llanrhidian Primary School Returns for All Pupils

It has been a wonderful start to the new term in our beautiful school. All staff have risen to the new challenges, and supported the return of all pupils. We have launched our new whole school topic "Aristotle's Rainbow" and pupils have planned their learning for the term.

To support all our pupils, we have improved our website to include links which enable access to the school learning at home. This will support those who may be self-isolating, or absent from school for other reasons. Our website really is worth a visit!

We are taking our learning outside as much as possible while the weather is still fine. And we are so blessed with our beautiful grounds. Our pupils particularly love the "Wild Area" and "Conker Land".

Although we have had a very positive start to term, we are also mindful of the continuing pressures on our community. So can we use this opportunity to wish everyone well during these strange times, and to also thank all those parents and carers who have supported us throughout.

Keep safe, and kind regards

Mrs Caswell
