

We have had a busy and exciting summer term already! We launched our new school topic 'A Right Royal Rumble' and both pupils and staff have been working together to planning the term ahead. We even had a visit from Princess Beatrice!

We have also had our very first 'Bedtime Story Week' and throughout that week all pupils were immersed into a variety of activities link to their love of reading and imagination. Staff and pupils shared some of their favourite stories. We had a second hand book sale to raise money to buy new books for each Pod.

Our 'top' Pod, Pod Pry Cop, also went on their first school trip since COVID-19. They had a surfing lesson at Llangennith beach. Not only did they develop their surfing skills, but they developed resilience's, confidence, self-regulation and peer support, becoming ambitious and capable pupils. Even though it was raining, they had lots of fun.

The Governing body, assisted by the pupil voice from the school council, has appointed a new deputy head teacher for the school. Mrs Sarah Archard will be joining us from September and we are all looking forward to working with her.
