Parents and caregivers are fully immersed in the preparation process, helping the children rehearse their lines and putting together the perfect costumes. Excitement and creativity are in full swing as everyone works together to ensure a remarkable and unforgettable show.

Christmas Parties

The last week of school coincides with the last week before Christmas. During this time, students plan, budget, and cater for their own Christmas parties a few days before the school closes for the holidays. They are given a budget and select snacks for their party menu. Although it may seem like lots of fun, these jovial activities involve a lot of learning.
