

Should we wear uniform?

In many schools, children wear a uniform every day. Some people think this helps schools run smoothly. Others believe children should be allowed to wear what they like.

People who support uniforms say they help children feel part of the same team. It also means children don't have to worry about wearing expensive clothes or deciding what to wear each morning. Some parents think it makes life easier.

However, some people think wearing a uniform is boring. Children often like wearing clothes that show who they are. Uniforms can also be pricey if schools have different ones for sport, winter and summer.

Uniforms can be helpful, but maybe schools should ask children what they think. If children help pick the design or colours, they may feel proud to wear them.
