

 Droppy's    Big    Water Cycle    Adventure

 Once    upon a time,    in    a    beautiful,    sparkly    lake,    there    lived    a happy    little    water    droplet    named    Droppy.    One    sunny day,    Droppy thought,    "I'll    go to    the    beach    and    have    a    yummy    picnic!"

 But    oh no!    The    air    was    wild    and    windy,    and    the    sun    was super    hot.    Suddenly,    a    big    gust of    wind    blew    Droppy    right whoosh—Droppy  turned into  steam and  floated  up  into  the  sky!

 Up,  up,  up he  went,  flying  higher  and  higher  until he reached a  big,  fluffy  cloud. But  soon the  sky  turned  dark and  grey,  and Droppy  started to  get  really  cold. The  cloud got  heavier  and  heavier  until... plop! Droppy  began to  fall back  down to the  ground,  zooming  through the  sky  like a rocket  coming back  from  space!

Finally,

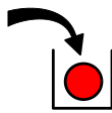

Droppy

splashed

back

into a

lake.

He

looked

around

and

thought,

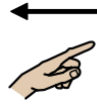

"Wow!

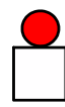

I

just

went

on

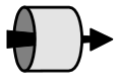

an

amazing

journey

through

the water cycle!"
