

Green Chilli

1. Electric cars are good for the environment.
2. Petrol cars make the air dirty.
3. Electric cars use electricity.
4. Petrol cars use fuel.
5. Electric cars are quiet.
6. Petrol cars cause pollution.
7. Electric cars help the planet.
8. Petrol cars are common.
9. Electric cars are becoming popular.

Orange Chilli

1. Electric cars are better for the environment because they do not produce emissions.
2. Petrol cars make the air dirty because they release harmful gases.
3. Firstly, electric cars are quieter than petrol cars.
4. Petrol cars cause pollution, which is harmful to people and the environment.
5. Electric cars are a good choice because they help keep the air clean.
6. Furthermore, electric cars can be cheaper to run over time.
7. However, petrol cars are still more convenient for long journeys.
8. Electric cars are becoming more popular as people try to reduce pollution.
9. Petrol cars use fuel that can damage the environment.
10. Therefore, electric cars are a better option for the future.

Red Chilli

1. Electric cars are undeniably the smarter choice, as they significantly reduce harmful emissions and protect our environment.
2. Do we really want to continue using petrol cars when they produce dangerous pollution that harms our planet?
3. Although petrol cars may seem convenient, they contribute to serious environmental damage.
4. Electric cars provide a cleaner, more sustainable solution to modern transport.
5. Petrol cars release harmful gases that contribute to pollution and climate change.
6. It is clear that electric cars are a far more responsible and environmentally friendly option.
7. If we continue to rely on petrol cars, we risk causing long-term damage to our planet.
8. Electric cars play a vital role in creating a cleaner and healthier future.
9. Petrol cars are a major contributor to air pollution in many cities around the world.
10. Therefore, switching to electric cars is an important step towards protecting our environment

